Good Morning,

My name is Eve Christian. I am Transgender. I face discrimination in many ways, but now as Transgender I face it every day. I had threats on my life because I am Transgender. And if the police know you are Transgender, some officers treat you as if you were a criminal. It is sad of how many times that I feel of why this is happening. I am still human and I wish to be treated as a human, but Society has marked me as an alien. That hurts the worst.

But it has not stopped me from helping and advocating for all people. Because it's me, I love helping and advocating for all people because I am a human being and if I can speak to make changes that will help all people, I will speak for them. Whether they are against me or not, I will continue to help my people, which is the human race, for I am still a human being and I am with God and God made all human beings. So please pass this bill.

Thank you for your time.
